

LIFE REDISCOVERY CENTER

CLIENT'S RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

AS A CLIENT OF LRC you will be given the opportunity to exercise your rights as follows:

Upon receiving Life Rediscovery Center outpatient behavioral health services, consumers are assured certain rights and responsibilities for treatment. These include:

1. The right to receive services that respect your dignity and protect safety and health.
2. The right to self- help, advocacy, and legal resources.
3. The right to participate in providing input to your program and an individualized care plan specific to your strengths, needs, abilities, and preferences.
4. The right to review and obtain copies of your records for a fee by contacting your lead clinician. Disclosure of psychotherapy notes that your physician or authorized staff feel is not in your best interest may be excluded (Georgia Code 31-33-2). If access of any information is denied, you have the right to have the denial reviewed by another licensed professional identified by Life Rediscovery Center, LLC
5. The right to consent to or refuse signing a Release of Information form.
6. The right to receive concurrent services as long as they do not compromise the integrity of your treatment at Life Rediscovery Center
7. The right to refuse services, unless a physician or licensed professional feels that refusal is not in your best interest due to yours or another's safety.
8. The right to prompt and confidential services regardless of your funding source, including but not limited to treatment, communication, and clinical records.
9. The right to receive information in a language you understand and to ask questions and obtain answers about any information for which you need clarification.
10. The right to remain free of physical restraints or time-out procedures unless such measures are required for providing effective treatment or protecting the safety of you or another.
11. The right to be free from any type of abuse, verbal, emotional, physical, financial, or sexual; to be free from neglect, humiliation or retaliation.
12. The right to cancel an appointment with the understanding it is my responsibility to inform my team that I cannot make the appointment by calling at least 24 hours in advance to reschedule, unless there is an emergency situation.
13. The right to be informed of any benefits and risks of treatment and information in sufficient time to make decisions regarding my treatment of services.
14. The right to terminate treatment voluntarily or to be terminated prior to my discharge date for violation of the behavioral health services structure, treatment, or responsibilities.
15. The right to know names and titles of all those involved in treatment and service planning and implementation
16. The right to refuse psychotropic medication recommendations.
17. The right to file a complaint or to present a grievance to the Consumer Rights Officer without fear of retaliation, including but not limited to service termination, if you feel any of your right have been violated.
